

FEASTING MONTH SCHLAMPANPAN PROGRAM MARCH/APRIL

From March to April 2025, we celebrate the 40 days of Schlampanpan, the month of feasting, as a contrast to the fasting months of the major world religions and the general bad mood. So we feast, enjoy, eat and drink, preferably the very best. Everyone can celebrate Schlampanpan however they like, but for our friends and fellow campaigners we have put on some top-class events where we celebrate together. The motto of this Schlampanpan is "Le Semestre Français" - so we have only chosen locations that have a connection to France.

29.3. 19 h MATTHIAS

Matthias is one of the most important and highly acclaimed restaurant openings in Berlin last year. The gourmet restaurant serves modern French cuisine with international influences and depth of flavor. In fact, it is rumored that Matthias will receive its first star at the Michelin star award ceremony on March 31. We are looking forward to this highlight in our calendar. We only have a few places reserved, so please let us know immediately. Reservation requests here via PN or to office@schlampanpan.de - Kollwitzstr. 87, Berlin, Germany 10435. www.matthiasrestaurant.com.

4.4. 19 H BRASSERIE LAMAZERE

Brasserie Lamazere is one of our favorite French restaurants, which we visited several times last year and always had a good time. French cuisine with finesse, a sensational wine list and a very good price-performance ratio delight us every time.

16.4. KITCHEN LIBRARY

The Kitchen Library has been a casual fine dining insider tip in Charlottenburg since 2016. Like no other restaurant in Berlin, it stands for a modern interpretation of French cuisine with influences from all over the world. For Schlampapan, Udo and Daniela Knörlein will conjure up a 4-course menu with 4 intermediate courses for 89 euros. This makes the event in the Kitchen Library one of the major highlights of this gourmet month.
